A close-up photograph of a leatherworking project. A piece of light tan leather is being shaped into a pointed, arrow-like form. The leather has a decorative white or light-colored stitching along its outer edge. A small, circular hole has been punched into the center of the pointed tip. The work is being done on a light-colored, textured surface, possibly a workbench or a piece of parchment. In the background, various leatherworking tools are visible, including a black-handled tool with a metal tip, a metal rod, and a piece of dark wood. The overall scene is well-lit, highlighting the texture of the leather and the precision of the work.
